

The Leading/Following Forum

Exploring New Ideas in the Relationships between Leaders and Followers from a Christian Worldview

September 30 – October 1, 2011

Atlanta, Georgia

The Leading/Following Forum offers scholars, students, and practitioners an opportunity to introduce and discuss new ideas in the fields of leading and following from a Christian worldview. The small forum structure provides an encouraging environment to the novice presenter or the seasoned scholar. Interaction, communication, and expanding the knowledge base regarding the biblical processes of leading and following are the goals.

Luther Rice Seminary & University is the host site for this year's forum. Located just east of Atlanta, GA, the campus provides the perfect setting for academic inquiry. Hartsfield/Jackson Airport serves the world and is a short 30 minute drive from the campus. Additionally, the Atlanta area is filled with opportunities for family members and forum participants to enjoy. There are ample hotel and restaurants around the campus. Access the LRS&U website for more detailed information. www.LRU.edu/LFF

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

The Leading/Following Forum seeks proposal submissions that represent the best contemporary thinking about the relationships between leaders and followers from a Christian worldview. All proposals will be blind peer-reviewed.

Proposal Guidelines

Conform to APA 6th edition

Submitted as a Word document

Abstract not to exceed 200 words

Abstracts must not include reference to author(s) names or institutional affiliation

Completed papers should conform to the guidelines located at www.LRU.edu/LFF

Submit proposals with LFF in the subject line to: shumphrey@LRU.edu

Proposal Ideas (Proposals may address but not be limited to the following)

- Follower responses to leader initiative
- Biblical courageous following
- Leader/follower relations
- Leader-to-leader relations
- Follower role in worship
- Following as biblical paradigm

Submission Deadline

September 1, 2011

Registration

$100 Regular Registration

$75 Student Registration

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

We are privileged to have Dan Novak, Ph.D. as our keynote speaker for this inaugural event. Dr. Novak is Assistant Professor of Leadership and coordinates the Master of Science in Leadership program at South University, where he helps organizations, leaders, and students find actionable answers to soft issues. He also coaches in the areas of leadership breakthrough, organizational strategy, innovation, teamwork, and human/organizational performance.

MODERATOR

Rusty Ricketson, Ph.D. will be serving as moderator for the forum. Dr. Ricketson is the Chair of the Leadership Department at LRS&U and teaches across the United States and internationally on leader/follower processes.

CONTACT INFORMATION

For more information regarding the Leading/Following Forum please contact:

Rusty Ricketson, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Leadership
rricketson@LRU.edu

Sherri Humphrey
Administrative Assistant
shumphrey@LRU.edu

Luther Rice Seminary & University
3038 Evans Mill Road
Lithonia, GA 30038
Phone 770.484.1204
*1.800.442.1577
Fax 770.484.1155
www.LRU.edu

